

This is me experimenting with video. I suspect WordPress doesn't natively handle streaming, so you'll probably have to download each of these in full. Sorry, it's going to be a pain. But if you just can't get enough of House on the Rock, here are a few random videos. I am very new to taking video (and especially editing it), so this is Amateur Hour 101.

Random compilation of the first music machine you see and a bunch of automated puppets you can turn on near the end of the tour:

The compilation of two videos of THE CAROUSEL. You're welcome.

Finally: a random small music machine involving dental picks playing a banjo. The picks had dug scars into the cloth behind the strings for maximum disturbance.
